

Press Contact: Judy Key Johnson
Key Marketing Group
jjohnson@keymarketinggroup.biz
949-422-8210

AutoMobile Technologies Signs AutoNetrix as Reseller for Recon Pro Software

March 3, 2008 AutoMobile Technologies (AMT) today announced AutoNetrix™ as the first reseller for AMT's Recon Pro™ software. Recon Pro uses cell phones or PDAs to identify, estimate, book, and bill reconditioning work.

"The ability to use to enter information digitally on the spot, from the first interaction with the customer, improves the image of reconditioning companies. Initial estimates are quickly printed and delivered to clients, and handwriting errors are eliminated" said Jeff Akins, president and owner of AutoNetrix.

Atkins added, "If a reconditioning company wants to stand apart from its competitors, Recon Pro is a must-have. We intent to introduce this product to leading reconditioning companies throughout the United States"

Recon Pro gives reconditioning companies a competitive advantage in obtaining a preferred relationship with automotive dealers. Estimates are calculated within seconds by the service estimator, and professional printed estimates are generated on the spot. Work is tracked paperlessly, information is integrated into QuickBooks and other accounting systems, and invoices are immediate and accurate.

Executive Dashboard Highlights Critical Information

Recon Pro supports a wide variety of reconditioning services, including paintless dent repair, paint touchup, interior repair, and wheel and windshield repair. Service estimators simply type in the recommended services on a smart phone or handheld computer, and an estimate is quickly generated.

The information captured by Recon Pro is stored in a central database, which can be viewed by any Internet-connected computer. An online "executive dashboard" summarizes critical business information and delivers a variety of reports for reconditioning companies and dealerships. The dashboard provides an at-a-glance summary of estimates, work orders, revenue, productivity, and other pertinent information.

About AutoMobile Technologies

AutoMobile Technologies (AMT) is a leading provider of service-related software for the automotive industry. Its products provide better visibility and control over customer service and back-office operations, and easily integrate to accounting systems such as QuickBooks®. AMT develops software applications tailored to the specific demands of recon vendors, new and used car dealers, and collision centers. AMT's expertise in smartphone and handheld computer technologies and Web-based applications provides software that is easy to use from any location.

www.AutoMobileTechnologies.com